

Section 7 Consultation

A cultural impact assessment (CIA) was conducted for the current project by CSH (Fa'anunu et al. 2012). Hawaiian organizations, agencies and community members were contacted in order to identify potentially knowledgeable individuals with cultural expertise and/or knowledge of the Project area and the vicinity. Outreach included efforts to contact 32 individuals and agencies. The organizations consulted included the State Historic Preservation Division (SHPD), the Office of Hawaiian Affairs (OHA), the Kaua'i/Ni'ihau Island Burial Council (KNIBC), the Hui Mālama I Kūpuna 'O Hawai'i Nei, the Kaua'i /Ni'ihau Ho'okipa Network, the Kaumuali'i Hawaiian Civic Club, the Kaua'i Historical Society, Mālama Kaua'i, and community members of the Līhu'e District.

CSH attempted to contact 32 community members, government agencies, community organizations, and individuals, including residents, "recognized" (either cultural or lineal) descendants, and cultural practitioners. Community consultations began in September, 2011 until February, 2012. Of the 22 people that responded, eight kūpuna (elders) and/or kama'āina (Native-born) participated in formal interviews for more in-depth contributions to the CIA and two people provided a statement via e-mail and telephone. Table 23 describes the results of community consultation performed during the CIA.

In addition to the CIA, consultation with a former Puhi Camp resident was conducted during the current AIS in order to plan targeted subsurface testing locations within the Puhi Camp area. This consultation involved asking former Puhi Camp residents the location of former structures including house lots and outhouses.

Rex Acosta, was referred to CSH by Calvin Shirai, the head maintenance personnel for KCC. Mr. Acosta was eight months old when he and his family moved to Puhi Camp. Mr. Acosta met with CSH personnel in the field at the location of the old Puhi Camp area and pointed out the location of his former home in the Camp (see Figure 38). T-11 was excavated within Mr. Acosta's former family residence. The excavation of T-11 uncovered historic artifacts include glass bottles, a tin plate, marbles, and plastic (Acc. #'s 1-55), which provided useful information on the material culture of Puhi Camp.

Mr. Acosta and family moved from Puhi Camp in the late 1980s when Grove Farm started construction at the subdivision directly across from Puhi Camp on the south side of Kaumuali'i Highway (see Figure 1).

For more information on the cultural consultation process for the current project, the reader is referred to the project's CIA document (Fa'anunu et al. 2012).
