Hello, I am the property owner of the below address. I am deeply concerned about this activity with regard to this situation. My spouse and I attended a meeting in Kapolei several years ago. The issue has never been brought to our attention since then. We have not received any correspondence or been contacted by anyone since that meeting.

Please include us in any upcoming meetings and their schedules. We will be putting together our effort moving forward to litigate this to every extent possible.

Hi Lisa,

Thanks for the response.

The answer is both.

Re: the current sister legislation, I expect you're referring to the process of determining what lands fall into the IAL category. That process is terribly flawed. My understanding is that if a property meets any one of three criteria, it makes the list for IAL designation without taking into account other key items that may render it an unreasonable choice for IAL. Ex: my Kahuku farm meets 2 of the three criteria. Unfortunately, it does NOT meet the most critical, which is the soil quality and growth conditions criteria. Our soil is terrible: it's called Pearl Harbor clay. Plus it's in close proximity to the ocean and heavy wind, which combine to make it anything but prime farmland, yet were on the IAL list. We're making a go of it anyway despite the marginal soil and conditions but now I have to waste time and energy learning about all this legislation and making a case that I should NOT be subject to IAL when I should be spending time maximizing farming ops! Its hard enough to make a go of it as it is!

Why should I have to defend against having my rights diminished?

This is all backwards. Someone should be coming to me and explaining why I would want to sign up for this IAL designation.

This segues to the underlying issue of the flawed existing IAL legislation (statute 205?).

Notification, education and consultation: Most farmers are not ma'a to the statute. They were too busy farming and in many cases too ignorant to spend the time and energy opposing this bad legislation so it happened without most farmers knowing what it was about. Until recently, I was one of the ignorant. I only just woke up to it because I received a letter last week noticing me that my property is on the IAL designation list, so now I have to educate myself. My crash course of that statute makes me realize that as good as the intention might be, this leg. never should have happened.

Why?

Lots of reasons including:

1) the fact that the law is missing details like definitions, (ex: what is "active farming" and who determines that?; who enforces the law and how?; what are the "penalties"?). Too many unknowns and too many opportunities for abuse of power, corruption, and incompetence. We are being set up to have a government bureaucrat that's likely never set foot on a farm or owned a business making these decisions.

2) It's a negative law. Where is the benefit to the farmer or farm land owner? There appears to be little if any benefit, only downside if you don't comply. This looks effectively like eminent domain of sorts without compensation. Its not right. Ask any Ag. landowner (or land leasing farmer) if they want their property to be included in the IAL. See how many sign up. My guess is next to zero. That should tell you something right there.

I and most people are in agreement that we need to protect our ag lands. But negative legislation is not the answer. I'm happy to explain in detail how limiting housing options and imposing other land use restrictions, then penalizing violators will NOT have the desired effect. It won't work. If this law is instituted in its current form, it's going to blow up in our faces. Mark my words.

My suggestion is to flip the law from negative to positive: make it attractive to have lands in IAL. Give incentives to farmers and ag land owners (incentives that are simple, don't require lots of time, red tape and education) to keep lands in ag and keep them active. There are lots of possibilities, (starting with assorted tax relief/waivers, etc.). I've got lots of ideas if you're interested.

As you suggested, lets talk story from this point if you want more detail on the palu outlined above. If you can show me the benefit, I'll happily champion this effort. If not, I can give you a big list of additional reasons why it will have adverse effects.

Thanks for asking and listening.

Hi John,

Thank you for reaching out with your concerns. Are you referring to any legislation in play right now, or just the ongoing program?

If it is current legislation, this is the week to act. If it is the ongoing program, lets talk story after this week so I can understand the unintended consequences on farmers and agricultural businesses and see what we can do about it.

Dear Hawaii State Government

Please stop your planned IAL program. Farming is difficult enough without the additional restrictions and regulations. As well meaning as you may think this program is, it will have adverse (unintended) consequences that will have the opposite effect of your intentions. It will make farming MORE difficult and less feasible, resulting in LESS agricultural land being actually farmed. Most farmers were completely unaware of this law and it's effect on farm lands. It is completely unfair to add these land use restrictions without adequate consultation and input of landowners and users.

I have a legitimate kalo farm located on affected land right now and therefore have first hand knowledge. Government functionaries have no business in our business. I can load you with specifics if you like.

Please listen and repeal this statute. Thank you for listening.

Dear Mr. Orondenker,

Attached was a copy of my letter regarding the City and County of Honolulu proposals for the Designation of Important Agricultural Lands for the KLRF subdivision.

As stated in the letter, the Dept. of Agriculture confirmed that the quantity of irrigation water was insufficient to designate KLRF as an IAL in February 2013. Another reason why it does not meet the designation was explained in the letter.

Mr. Orondenker, there has been over a half-a-dozen front-page story on the Star-Advertiser, regarding many violations on the KLRF Subdivision. We ask and pray for your honest decision and to please delay the IAL designation approval until the Court decide what is the nature of ownership. Farmers purchased the property as subdivided lot under ACT 271, HRS 205-4.5, 17(f) as lots of record. We want to have our farm we can call our own.

Sincerely Yours,
Pepito R, Paguirigan

Subject: [EXTERNAL] Hawaii Important Agricultural Lands

Dear Hawaii Land Use Commission,

I am writing this letter in strong opposition to the City and County of Honolulu's recommendation for the designation of Important Agricultural Lands. I feel the proposed changes will have negative effects to current and future land owners and farmers in the designated area of the IAL. Especially those who own or will own small agricultural parcels in the effected area.

As an owner of a small parcel within the proposed IAL there is no possible way I would be able to comply economically or personally to the proposed requirements under the IAL. I understand that preserving agricultural land on Oahu is important. I am doing my best to contribute to the agricultural effort to the area but imposing regulations associated with the IAL will create great hardship for me and I believe to over owners of agricultural land on the area.

PLEASE TAKE THIS LETTER AS STRONG OPPOSITION TO THE ADOPTION OF THE CITY AND COUNTY OF HONOLULU IAL PROPOSALS.

Thank You,

Subject: Regarding IAL for April 28, LUC Hearing

Aloha mai kāua e Riley,

My name is Bronson "Kainoa" Azama and I am a youth advocate on the windward side of O'ahu in particular the moku of Ko'olaupoko. I see the LUC has taken the City's Important Agricultural Lands recommendations. I am in deep support of the expansion of these land recommendations, however, I have some concern for Windward O'ahu.

Much has changed in the last few decades and there has been quite the resurgence of returning to agriculture as a viable way of life on the windward side. I would like to see more IAL recommendations in Ko'olaupoko to help with the preservation of these lands and associated rural lifestyle. I would like to see the He'eia Ahupua'a and more areas in Kailua, Hakipu'u, and Waikāne, designated as IAL. Due to their past, current, and future use for Taro cultivation and other forms of traditional agriculture and aquaculture, I find these lands should be designated as IAL to further help in the preservation of rural lifestyle and ancestral abundance. I would like the LUC to further research into Windward O'ahu's land recommendations and include more of our precious agricultural lands.

Would this be something you could help with? As I said I am only a youth advocate and am still learning, so I am unsure who else to turn to, to implement this change.

Aloha nō,
Kainoa
